Round da Church

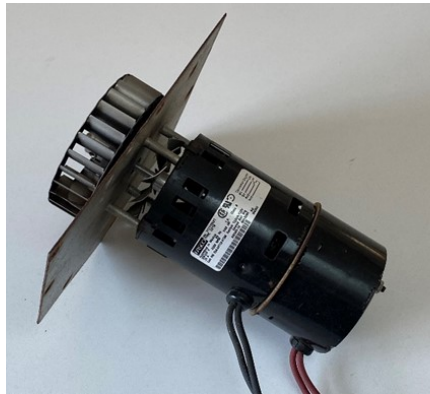

Well, they're at it again, the trustees, that is. On a sunny, but blustery Friday in January, we teamed up for a workday "Round Da Church."

First, you can't get started without a breakfast at the White Horse Luncheonette. Seeing some locals and stories it's time to head out.

Some electrical work was needed to the new sound area, wires run and cables pulled. It was a good day for inside work. After wrapping up in that area, what's next?

Can you say "Got Heat?" There were some areas that didn't. Up on the rooftop, step, step, step and it wasn't St. Nick. There was a small issue with a blower motor. It was in dire need of repair after shorting out and sending a small amount of smoke into the building. With a replacement on site, it was swapped out and back on line. Isn't it encouraging how quickly you can work on a rooftop in mid-January.

Until next time, see Ya, Round da Church.
